

PRESENTS TEXAS
RATE PROTEST

Washington, D. C., April 17.—Senator Morris Sheppard has taken up with the inland waterways commission protests of the Texas chamber of commerce and other trade organizations who claim that the Texas enjoys better freight rates to New Orleans than Texas cities because of the existing joint rail water rates. The Texas cities want the advantage of the joint rates.

MARY AND DOUG. SILENT
ON MOVE AGAINST DIVORCE

Los Angeles, Calif., April 17.—Mary Pickford and her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, decline to discuss the suit against the movie star to set aside her divorce from Owen Moore, in Nevada. A secretary said they felt that the question, being court proceedings, could not be discussed with propriety, except by their attorneys.

Skin Trouble On
Three-Year-Old Boy
Cuticura Heals.

"My little boy three years old began to break out in red spots, from the size of a dime to a nickel, over his body and on his face. They would itch and he would life awake and scratch sometimes till they would bleed. They dried up and formed a scale that looked like corn bran, and some of the places would crack. "I tried salves with no effect, so I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I could tell a difference from the first application. When I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment he was healed." (Signed) Mrs. D. Burnett, Sale Lick, Kentucky, Sept. 9, 1919.

Once clear, keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for every-day toilet purposes and Cuticura Talcum to powder and perfume. Nothing better.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. K, Malden, Mass." Send every-where. Every box of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, 25¢.

TEXAS C. OF C.
HOLDS MEETING

San Antonio, Texas, April 17.—Cotton can be shipped through Texas ports at one dollar a bale cheaper than through Pacific ports and the way to build up Texas ports is to furnish goods for shipment through them. H. H. Haines, of Galveston, declared here yesterday at the annual conference of the Texas chamber of commerce.

J. G. Culbertson, of Wichita Falls, urged a federal reserve bank to finance trade and he gave hints to exporters as how to build up their business abroad.

Judge S. A. Lindsay, of Houston, and Walton Peters, manager of the agricultural department of the Texas chamber of commerce, advocated extension of long term credit to farmers, so as to enable them to make farming more profitable and farm life attractive, thereby increasing production of food and clothing.

Don't Rock the Boat
Judge W. F. Ramsey, federal reserve agent at Dallas, in a speech on "Financing Texas Trade," asserted that an era of prosperity is at hand for every man who gets his affairs in shipshape, sits tight and does not rock the boat.

W. B. Ekins, of Wichita Falls, urged people not to invest their money in blue sky oil companies. He urged conservation of petroleum and its products, saying that the visible supply will be consumed in a short time.

F. H. Farwell advocated economy in the use of lumber, the supply of which he pointed out is rapidly diminishing, and within 10 years there will be no sawmills in Texas. Leroy G. Stump, of Fort Arthur, declared that the Sabine district was the greatest exporter of the entire Gulf coast and urged national fertilization of Texas ports.

CHAMPION ONION GROWER
DISCHARGED FROM ASYLUM

Hoswell, N. M., April 17.—Orlando Banda, who has the reputation of being the champion onion grower of Chaves county, has been discharged from the state asylum at Las Vegas, where he has been a patient since last October. Mr. Banda did not wait for his transportation, but immediately set out on foot and arrived at his home in this city after a 10 days' tramp, tattered and torn, but otherwise no worse for his experience. He is now busy planting onions on his 40-acre farm near this city.

OPPOSES SMITH
IN ARIZONA RACE

Tucson, Ariz., April 17.—W. M. Ramsdell, of Tucson, who opposes Mark Smith for the Arizona Democratic nomination for senator, in the course of a 1200 word announcement, favors the league of nations, deflation of the currency, a change in the tariff and that will make profit-making a felony, federal licensing of interstate business, progressive taxation, and against reductions in labor disputes, favors governmental farm loans and a governmental home building plan for labor.

He says he was a member of the Montana constitutional convention, twice was elected state senator in Montana, had a big Democratic caucus nomination for United States senator and was an unsuccessful candidate for governor. It is claimed he would have been elected governor had not breaking health compelled him to resign.

For the Republican senatorial nomination, Cochise county has brought out a competitor to Elias S. Clark of Prescott. He is James H. Boyle, a Douglas attorney, a resident for five years, formerly of Minnesota. His special endorsement is from the Cochise county Republican committee.

Well stated, with reference to his candidacy for the office he holds, "I have that matter under consideration, but cannot now say that I'm a candidate." The governor went to Cochise county to testify in the Babine deportation case at Tombstone, but was not called to the stand.

New candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination has appeared in Phoenix in the person of Leon L. Harmon, late president of the Arizona Cattle Growers' association, a planter and wealthy Arizona. It is believed he is being pushed by the anti Wilson and anti radical element of the party.

BUILDING PERMITS.
Douglas school, Brooklyn and Canal, three stories; $12,225. J. G. Henderson, 151 Prospect, porch, $25.

Japan had no wars from 440 B. C. until the civil wars in the 12th century.

*Garden Seeds—Fresh and full of life. El Paso Seed Co., 111 E. San Antonio street.—Adv.

SOCIETY ACTIVE
AT LAS CRUCES

Las Cruces, N. M., April 17.—The social event booked for the early part of the week in the tea to be given in the community building Tuesday afternoon by the Woman's Improvement association. A musical program will be given.

A pleasant social event was the reception given by the Baptist congregation in the community building last night in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Wilcoxson, who lately came here from Texas. Mr. Wilcoxson is now in charge of the work of the local Baptist church. A musical program was rendered, also a recitation given and brief speeches made by W. T. Seagraves and Revs. Wilcoxson and Verrellian. Rev. Verrellian was a former pastor of this congregation and he and his family motored out from El Paso last night for the reception. After the program refreshments were served, consisting of ice cream and cake. The dining room was artistically decorated with sweet peas. Besides the congregation a number of friends from other churches were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. George Young of Kansas City, are here, the guests of their daughter Mrs. H. Howard, on Florida street.

The Ladies Aid circle of the Presbyterian church will be entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. L. DeNose with Mrs. DeNose and her sister, Mrs. Howard, as hostesses. Mrs. DeNose lately moved from Florida street to the Princeton home on Las Cruces avenue.

Waits Bounty 50 Years;
Dies on Day State Pays

Lansing, Mich., April 17.—Moses B. Parker, of Scottville, who waited more than half a century for his bounty as an enlisted man in the army during the civil war, died, according to word received by the Board of State auditors, the same day that warrant for the bounty, which he had been waiting for 50 years, was issued. Alex J. Grossbeck, attorney general, has ruled that the warrant becomes part of the bounty. The bounty was originally for $150, but interest brings it up to $644.

FIRST TO PLANT CORN.

Cottonwood Falls, Kan., April 17.—Tom Mercer holds the record for being the first farmer in Chase county to plant corn this season. Last year Mercer was second in corn planting in this county, finishing the planting April 1.

SAYS MEXICO'S
PEER IS DENIED

(Continued from page 1.)
eral troops through United States territory.

Another telegram was sent to postmaster general Harrison asking that he rescind his order forbidding mail from the United States to be directly sent to Sonora and specifying that it be sent into Mexico through Juarez, Arizona, and that the order be rescinded.

Wilson Names Wilson.
Washington, D. C., April 17.—While the state department was considering a new phase of the latest Mexican problem—a request from the Carranza government that its troops be given passage across American territory to attack revolutionists in the state of Sonora—Henry Lane Wilson, former ambassador to Mexico, was drawing a gloomy picture of the situation around the border before a senate investigating committee yesterday.

Mr. Wilson said that the unfortunate and mischievous policy of the present administration toward Mexico was responsible for the conditions described. That policy, he said, had "bound the United States to a position of complete inaction, and with him the legend that there is peace and order in Mexico."

The state department did not make public the text of the Mexican request, nor was any official intimation given as to the nature of the reply to be made or when it would be sent.

William J. Bryan, a secretary of state, "ran the state department like the back kitchen of a restaurant," Mr. Wilson said. Almost every diplomatic representative of the United States sent to Mexico since the fall of Diaz, and some officials at the department, he added, had been unable to tolerate the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the "runners."

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Army intelligence reports to southern department headquarters state that Francisco Villa may conduct a campaign against the Carranza government and that he will attack El Paso, Parral and Juarez in the near future. The plan, it was stated at Fort Sam Houston, was to strike off the head of the Mexican policy. He named former ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Charles G. Dyer, and John Bassett Moore, former counselor at the department, among the